BREAKERS AHEAD.

By what means have the consequences of our prodigal expenditures been so long postponed? The answer is not difficult; the evil day has been put off by the ordinary resource of prodigal—borrowing. The process of borrowing has been disguised under the delusive fallacy that in exporting bonds to Europe to meet our current debts, we have been exporting real values—exporting property. But it is too obvious for argument that we have been merely exchanging one form of indebtedness for another. The bonds have got to be paid, just as much as the heavy debts for imported goods would have to be paid if the bonds had not been sent out of the country to adjust the balances. The only difference is, that, by means of the bonds, the time of payment is postponed. Besides paying for our future importations, we have got to pay to foreigners the semi-annual interest on the exported bonds, and, sooner or later, the principal. So long as the prodigious glut of the bond market lasted, we seemed to go on swimmingly. Bonds have been exported to meet the balances of our foreign trade; bonds have been exported to pay the interest on the bonds already in the hands of foreigners. We have thus been accumulating debt upon debt; paying old debts by the easy method of incurring new ones. It ought to have been evident throughout this pleasant process, that it could not last. As we had ceased to manufacture bonds, as the supply, enormous as it was, was limited, this mode of dodging present payment and piling up future liabilities to foreigners was destined to end. While it has lasted, we have been borrowing of Europe at a high rate of interest plus exorbitant, ruinous "shaves." We must pay not only the regular six per cent., but must pay a full hundred dollar for every hundred dollar bond which we have sold to foreigners for seventy eighty dollars. And the current interest is at a much higher rate than the nominal six per cent. When we receive only sixty-six dollars for a hundred dollar six per cent. bond, the rate of interest which we really pay is not six per cent, but nine, besides the bonds of thirty-four dollars at the final settlement. For the last four years we have been incurring heavy debts to Europe on these ruinous terms; continuing to export bonds to meet our current debts and to pay the accruing interest on the heavy amounts of bonds already exported.

We are nearly at the end of our tether in this career of debt and extravagance. Now, when the supply of bonds available for exportation is getting exhausted, Mr. Boutwell comes into the market as a purchaser of bonds, at the rate of fifty-two millions a year. He thus arrests the ebbing exportation, sends up the price of gold, and spreads anxiety and alarm through business circles by raising the inquiry how we are hereafter to meet the claims of our foreign creditors. When the exportation of bonds stops, what are we to send abroad? The semi-annual interest can then be no longer paid by the exportation of other bonds. The balances against us in our international trade can then be no longer met by the exportation of bonds. Then will have come the gloomy dawning of pay day. The interest on the exported bonds will have to be paid in something. Our importations of foreign goods will have to be paid in something.—When the bonds, having risen to par, are returned upon our market and sold, we must send back their value in something. What shall that something be? Gold, while our small stock of gold lasts; but that will be soon exhausted.

What then? What then?

We submit the question to thoughtful men who have sufficient discernment of the signs in the sky to forecast the coming storm. We submit it to the crazy tariff men and inflationists who have rendered it impossible that we should manufacture anything to export. We submit it to the revengeful Radical destructives who have kept the South disorganized these four years, and prevented the flow of capital into that section to revieve the cultivation of its great staples, which are our chief articles of export. With regard to this process of paying foreign debts by the exportation of bonds, we are manifestly near "the beginning of the end."

What then? What then?—New York World.

WHAT HORACE GREELEY SAYS OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Mr. Hinton Rowan Helper fills up an entire page of the New York Tribune with a very able communication on the subject of immigration to North Carolina. It is entirely too long for our columns; but Mr. Greeley "nutshells" the whole thing as follows:

"We publish herewith the fullest account ever yet given in a periodical of the State of North Carolina—its soil, climate, topography, timber, productions, &c., &c., for the information of all who may be asked Mr. Webster's question—"Where am I to go?" North Carolina is a thoroughly reconstructed State, is right side up to stay, is peaceable, loyal, unambitious, and truly conservative, is now (we believe) the largest in area of the Original Thirteen, has a delightful mild and genial climate, fine navigable rivers and spacious sounds, with a very fair allotment of railroads in progress. She proffers very cheap land; her blacks are docile and glad to work for fair wages, and colonists of twenty to one hundred families can be cheaply located on good lands, good navigation (or railroad transportation,) with an abundance of good timber, where the grape, the peach, the apple, and the cherry, with all the grains, can be produced with greater certainty and in higher perfection than almost anywhere else on earth. Read Mr. Helper's exhibit for its facts, and form your own conclusion."

We are glad to see that Mr. Greeley can sometimes say a good thing of us, particularly at this time when we have such need of immigrants and capital.

There can be no doubt that, all things considered, North Carolina presents greater inducements to the settler or capital and energy than any of her sister States of the South. With a peaceable, steady and reliable population, and every natural advantage that the most exacting could desire, we can only attribute our failure to be foremost in the work of recuperation to the apathy or want of energy of our own people.—Wil. Star.

GOOD BREEDING.

Long before Chesterfield wrote to his son somebody said, "good breeding smooths distinction, sweetens conversation and makes every one in company pleased with himself. It renders a superior, amiable, an equal agreeable, and an inferior acceptable.

Good breeding is only to be acquired by great knowledge of the world and keeping the best company."

Lord Chesterfield, in letters to his son, says, "I never saw the worst bred man living, guilty of lolling, whistling, scratching his head and such like indecencies, in company that he respected.

In mixed companies, whoever is admitted to make part of them, is for the time at least, supposed to be upon a footing of equality with the rest, and, consequently, every one claims, and every one justly, every mark of civility and good breeding. Ease is allowed, but carelessness and negligence are strictly forbidden. If a man accosts you, and talks to you ever so dully or frivolously, it is worse than rudeness, it is brutality, to show him by a manifest inattention to what he says, that you think him a fool or a blockhead and not worth hearing." After speaking of the first and second he says: "The third sort of good breeding is local and is variously modified, in not only different countries but in different towns in the same country. But it must be founded on the two former sorts.

Whoever has the two first sorts will easily acquire the third sort of good breeding, which depends singly upon attention and observation.

A well bred person will take care to answer with complaisance when he is spoken to; will place himself at the lower end of the table, unless bid to go higher; will first drink to the lady of the house and then to the master.

A man of good breeding should be acquainted with the forms and customs of Courts (and Lunatic Asylums.) At Vienna men always make courtesies, instead of bows, to the Emperor, in France no body bows to the King or kisses his hand; but in Spain and England bows are made and hands kissed. Thus every Court (and Lunatic Asylum,) has some peculiarity which those who visit them ought previously to inform themselves of, to avoid blunders and awkwardness."

We have made this recurrence to good breeding and manners, and quoted from old books on the subject, because of the uncivil, not to say barbarous treatment of Pompey Howe, of Wilmington, at a feast given at the Lunatic Asylum, to the Penitentiary Committee, composed of the following gentlemen: "Hon." Pompey Howe, colored, Hon. Alfred Dockery, white, Jno. R. Harrison, Esq., Rev. Geo. Walker, white, A. L. Longee.

While the Committee were engaged in their duties, a message was received inviting them to dine with the Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum Dr. Grissom, of the late Confederate army, but now repentant and loyal. Some of the Committee declined and were about to take their departure, when a second message was received stating that the Doctor expected all the Committee to dine with him, and he should be disappointed if the Committee did not do so.—The second invitation settled the matter, and the Committee walked into the Doctor's parlor. Here was a difficulty if the rules laid down by Lord Chesterfield were to be followed.

Here was a mixed company; whoever is admitted into it is supposed to be upon a footing of equality, every guest claims and justly too the same marks of civility and good breeding from "mine host." "Mine host" by Chesterfield is required to "smooth distinctions, sweeten conversation, and make every guest pleased with himself."

The guest is required to drink first to the mistress and then to the master of the house, not to loll, yarn, whistle or scratch his head.

Here was an irrepressible conflict between Chesterfield and the "onward march of the new civilization."

Chesterfield and Howe, "the man and brother" and the new civilization itself, all fell before the unconquerable pride and prejudice of the loyal Doctor.

Howe, a decent, well dressed, well behaved, "man and brother" after being invited was served with notice that he could not sit at the table with the gentleman of the Committee. This was a cruel blow to Howe and Chesterfield. There was no necessity for making poor Howe's tears more bitter or his heart more heavy. The thought of dining even with the Governor had given him strength in the late campaign.—It was that hope which lightened his heart and cheered him in his toil and labor for the party by day and by night.

Charles Kingsley said of Sidney Smith: "The love and admiration which that truly brave and loving man won from every one, rich or poor, with whom he came in contact, seems to me to have arisen from the one fact, that without perhaps, having any such conscious intention, he treated rich and poor, his own servants and the noble men, his guests, alike, and alike courteously, considerately, cheerfully, affectionately, so leaving a blessing and reaping a blessing wherever he went.

TEMPERANCE.

As "our beloved Governor" chews, smokes, drinks and curses, it is not to be wondered at that he incites the dissolute and ignorant of the league to riotous and disorderly conduct. We are, however, glad to inform the public that since our publication of his visits to the grog shops, they are less frequent. For our beloved's special reading we publish what Sydney Smith said of temperance:

"Let me state some of the goods arising from abstaining from all fermented liquors. First, sweet sleep; having never known what sweet sleep was, I sleep like a baby or a plough-boy. If I wake, no needless terrors, no black visions of life, but pleasing hopes and pleasing recollections past and to come. If I dream, it is not of lions and tigers, but of Easter dues and tithes. Secondly, I can take longer walks, and make greater exertions without fatigue. My understanding is improved and I comprehend political economy. I see better without wine and spectacles than when I use both. Pray leave off wine. The stomach will be at rest; no heart burn, no pain, no distension."

Such are the sweet fruits which our "beloved" would gather for his own personal enjoyment, if he would only leave off "cussing" and whiskey.

But for the use of whiskey, our beloved would not be embittered by the recollection of his cowardly conduct on the street, to a minister of the gospel, nor of his disgraceful, behaviour before the Mayors Court in the trial of the Davie Street rioters, when and where it became necessary because of "our beloved's" speech made under the influence of whiskey, for the chief of police, to draw, cock and present his pistol in the presence of the Court, and threaten to shoot down the first man who was guilty of a breach of the peace.

We forbear to speak of the public advantage to be derived from the Governors abandonment of whiskey and the grog-shops, for we readily confess that he is too indifferent to public opinion to be at all moved by considerations, of a general and public character. Besides his conduct and defiance of the Court met the approval of those present who elected him, including Cebe Harris and Jenkins the Treasurer and excluding the Mayor and police, and Senator Galloway the leader of the party.

WHAT'S IN THE WIND?

Downing left New York on Friday and reached this city on Saturday; talked with the Governor, left the city on Monday and reached New York on Tuesday night. To-day "our beloved" left for the North.—Where are the Penitentiary bonds, Have they been returned to the Treasury? When will the Hyde county public lands be in market again? Where is that "good" man Bible, who once bought these lands for $30,000 and bargained to sell them in New York for $90,000? Has the Governor gone to make the necessary deeds?

RUMOR.

Madame rumor had it on the street three weeks ago that our old friend Philemon B. Hawkins would be the Radical candidate to fill the vacancy in the Senate created by the death of Mr. Wynne. The old jade has it to-day that Mr. Hawkins is the choice of Governor Holden. Holden must be preparing to change his "base" again, and come to Phil, for Phil can't go to him.

FEELINGS HURT.

Another Man's Feelings Hurt in Detroit, Michigan—The "New March of Civilization" Checked—Sable Romeo Makes Love and Proposes to Marry a White Lady.

A Detroit paper gives the following account of the courtship:

"The cry of "negro equality" by Jacobin enthusiasts is heard in every nook and corner of the country, and what wonder the simple-minded African, who is honest enough to believe the professed friendship of his white worshippers, should be led contrary and seek to elevate himself to their standing in society, and seek a place at our firesides. Repeatedly they cross our paths and seek to worm themselves into families and friendships, and nothing but a forcible application of boot-leather will again place them upon their proper level. Doting fathers who permit their daughters to associate even as teachers with the ignorant and debased beings must live to witness their own folly. On Sunday last, a case setting forth this spirit was developed at a negro Sabbath-school on Croghan street, when a respectable young lady was mortified to find herself the adored of a burly black African, whose instincts overcame the small particle of common sense usually allotted to human being, whether with white-hide or black.

The young lady in question has taught a class in the Sabbath school for four or five years, and her efforts were apparently successful in winning the depraved class from their evil ways, and instilling into their minds (if they have any) the moral teachings of the Scriptures. Under her careful instructions full-grown lads had developed into manhood, and yet they remained as if spell-bound by the wisdom and teachings of the fair preceptress. Her class was a model for the school, and her beaming smiles won many friends among the sable "brudders," who appreciated her kindness in setting a good example to "de little piccaninnies."

On last Sunday afternoon, while the class was going through their recitations, a neatly-folded note was handed to the teacher by her oldest pupil, a young man of twenty-four or twenty-five years of age, and nothing was thought of it until the school closed. Surrounded by friends of both sexes and races, she recalled to mind the note, and supposing it to be regarding the Sunday School lesson, she opened it, and imagine her surprise and indignation on beholding a scrowl something like this:

I want to marry you. I nos you are gude and like me. I will make you happy and never mind the wuld. I wanted too tell you Before and now it is UnBareable and I can't stand it enny longer.

Our lady friend could stand it no longer, and tearing the filthy sheet into a thousand pieces, she burst into a flood of tears, and wended her way homeward, humiliated and abashed at the insult.

Whether the young lady will persist in her mission of mercy we cannot say, but to relieve the aspiring young shade of any uncertainty in the matter, we may inform him that the young lady is already betrothed, and will soon be led to Hymen's altar, a happy bride, when it is hoped she may be forever cured of teaching a negro Sabbath School."

A true philanthropist and a well-trained horse always stop at the sound wo.

LOTTERY.

We publish below the result of the drawing which came off at Tucker Hall, on Saturday last. We have received letters inquiring if this is a Yankee trick to cheat gullable Southerners. We have answered that all the persons we know, or have heard of, as connected with the business, are Confederates. Those who drew prizes were sure that the drawing was honestly done, and even those who drew blank had no suspicion of foul play in the drawing. It is the only way we see to dispose of property at fair prices, and thereby keep Forney and fourteen from buying our lands, worth $40 in gold, at $5 in greenbacks.

There has been in North Carolina a proper moral sentiment and prejudice against Lotteries. We are not able now to defend them but old Dictionary Johnson, if he were here, could, for in conversation with Goldsmith, as Boswell tells, the great moralist set up a defence for card playing, and likened it to the gambling in dry goods and groceries, saying the man who buys cotton cloth at 10 cents per yard simply bets that he can sell it for 15 cents, and so he put all mercantile and trading on the basis of gambling, but this is bad morality, if Johnson did teach it.

The last Lottery drawing in North Carolina was in 1822-'23, the proceeds of which were applied to the building of the Masonic Hall, in Hillsboro. The late Chief Justice Nash, and other good men, gave it their encouragement, because of the necessities of the Lodge. If necessity can justify the Lottery, our people can surely make that plea.

GREENSBORO.

MR. EDITOR.—Not long since I had the pleasure of visiting Greensboro; and I propose recounting a few of my observations, thinking, that, perhaps, they might be of interest to some of your readers.

I think Greensboro is destined to be the chief town, I may say city, in western or central North Carolina: It is naturally a Railroad centre, and if the citizens succeed, as they should, and I hope will, in getting the Fayetteville & Salem Roads to terminate there, then they will have the termini of three roads—and this, with the centre road pouring its tide through it, will make Greensboro. The people for the most part are in favor of consolidating the N. C. & Atlantic Roads. This is a grand project, and will, I doubt not, add much to the wealth and prosperity of both roads, while, at the same time, it will build up a harbor of our own. Gov. Morehead never showed forth his great foresight more clearly than he did when he recommended this plan; and no scheme of that great friend and father of internal improvements in North Carolina will be a greater success than this will if carried out according to his directions.

Greensboro has added one thousand or more to its population since the surrender—making it in all over four thousand.—Life and energy abound; a distillery is in full blast—turning out many barrels of whiskey per day; its proprietors have bought up numbers of cows and hogs, and are fattening them at little expense. Concerning the Spoke and Handle Factory, you have had so many communications, I propose to add nothing, suffice it to say, it is a great success.

Mr. Fontaine has established a factory for grinding up black and red oak bark for dyeing purposes. He needs bark, and will pay our farmers five dollars and upwards per cord for bark of that description.

A plough factory is in successful operation. What town in the State can boast a like number?

A large mercantile business is carried on—fifteen stores. This you can judge from the fact that there are two brokers establishments, and one bank—the Bank of Greensboro—ably managed by Messrs. Lindsay, Gray and Morehead.

But little immigration has, as yet, flowed into our State; but Greensboro has got quite her share of that. This is not at all surprising, when you consider the geniality, industry, intelligence, energy, and hospitality of her citizens. And another thing: men are measured there, not by their worldly wealth, or what and how great their ancestors were, but by their industry and honesty. Mechanics' families form a component part of the best society in the place, and no better, more refined, society exists anywhere.

On Saturday, May 15th, the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday Schools had picnics. I accompanied the Presbyterians to South Buffalo, two miles South of the Depot. The Greensboro Brass Brand was present and discoursed sweet music. A nice time it was, and greatly enjoyed by the large crowd that participated. Bountious tables were spread. Croquet was the order of the day; and truly it was rendered pleasant to the young men by reason of the pretty girls, who strove with and against them for croquet laurels. The woods were resonant with merry laughter, for all hearts there were joyful. Even old men, I learned, the teachers and fathers of the children, lived their youth over again in a game of marbles. A pleasant day it was to all, except one little fellow, who fell in the branch, and I believe he enjoyed that too.—Sir, Greensboro is a live place, a pleasant place, and I predict a brilliant future for it.

PROF. KERR'S REPORT.

We have all great reason to be thankful to Gov. Holden for one thing at least, namely, that he did not turn our State Geologist out of office.

I have read Prof. Kerr's report with very great interest and pleasure, and have been waiting for a fortnight past in hope of seeing some intelligent notice of it from some appreciative source. I hoped to see some Editor call attention to the results of a thorough Geological survey of some nineteen of our Western counties, containing hints invaluable to the mining and agricultural interests of our State. It is essential that we should draw capital and immigrants of the better class, I know of no statements more absolutely reliable or more attractive than are to be found in this Document. For instance—

"The forests of this mountain plateau are very heavy and contain an incalculable amount of valuable timber. There are hundreds of square miles of white oak forests which must become immensely valuable for export at no distant day. The black Locust covers large tracts. This is the most durable timber in our forests and is so much esteemed for ship building that it is cultivated in the Northern States on a large scale,—one acre on Long Island for instance being valued at two to four hundred dollars. Chestnut and poplar are everywhere, and measure sometimes ten or twelve feet in diameter. White pine abounds, and often reaches a height of 150 feet. Among valuable cabinet timbers, mountain birch, bird's eye maple, black walnut and cherry are found in great quantities and of large size. Large fields are sometimes fenced with black walnut. There are extensive forests of sugar maple. There are hundreds of acres of native cranberries in the higher valley. Four tons per acre of hay is no uncommon crop. Oats grown in this region weigh forty-two pounds per bushel, &c., &c., &c.

"Such facts as these, taken in connection with the exceeding cheapness of land, (twenty-five cents to one dollar per acre,) and the proximity to the great markets of the country, justify the opinion that the continent does not afford more favorable conditions for cattle, farming, wool growing and cheese making. The President of the Cheese Makers Association of New York (Gov. Seymour) stated in an address the other day that the reason of their ability to compete successfully with the English Cheese makers is to be found in the comparative cheapness of land in New York. The price of one acre of Gov. Seymour's grass land will buy two or three hundred acres in this region."

I am of the opinion that the North Carolina Press would do well to scatter such information as this far and wide for the benefit of Companies now forming at the North, and of immigrants already knocking at our doors. The notes on our minerals and mining interests are of equal value and attractiveness.

Mr. Kerr is an accomplished and energetic and first-rate State officer. He is "the right man in the right place" for once. But he has one fault as a North Carolina State Geologist, and that I am very sorry to say, is a serious fault. He is quite too far ahead of his generation. Clean out of sight, and we shall never catch up with him. He absolutely discourages gold mines! He denounces that most venerable of all our North Carolina institutions, the Old Field, and cast the same in our teeth!

One of the incidental benefits of having a State Geologist is that he makes the State acquainted with itself—introduces sea-shore to mountain, and sets them a thinking about each other. I confess, for myself, as representative of the hill country, that I had not the slightest notion till I read this report of the mining propensities and delusions of our brethren of the Blue Ridge and Kittatinny Ranges. Gold, silver, copper, lead, nothing seems to come amiss to them. No story that promises success, too gross, or too stale for them to swallow.

Prof. Kerr's introduction of the old hunter, (now dead, or moved west, or "won't tell,") who holds the secret of some rich mine in a certain creek, is simply delicious. His pages on visionary mining are a series suggestive pictures. Whole neighborhoods set a digging and the country literally "turned upside down" on the promulgation of some gold or silver myth.

But I think he reserves his strength for the "old field," and gets so far ahead of us that we can just hear the noise he is making in the distance. Listen:

"Our people have carried their method of farming (which consists chiefly in the manufacture of "old fields,") beyond the Blue Ridge, and already those glorious mountain lands capes have been extensively marred and scarred by these favorite mementoes of our agriculture (ehem!)—North Carolina farmer, his mark. Some of the finest lands on the continent utterly denuded of forest and of soil in half a dozen years, and reduced to bare rocky cliffs, and stone cliffs and steep glaring gullies,—a monument and a beacon, and a frowning curse. No wonder these bald declivities, thus plundered and outraged, send down their destroying floods to ravage the plains. Nature will be avenged on man some way.

I am for laying a special tax on all old fields as heavy as the Constitution will permit. Indeed they ought to revert and be declared ipso facto forfeit to the State. He who takes an acre of virgin soil which the Almighty has employed all the forces of His universe some thousands of years to embellish and enrich, His sun and rain, and frost, and successive tribes of animals and plants, and chemistry of the stars, to make it "a thing of beauty and joy forever" for the use and enjoyment of His children; he who takes that, and converts it into a blight and a devastation in the shape of an "old field,"—what is he but a criminal?—No man—no generation of men, has an absolute title to the soil in any such sense that he may innocently destroy it. It belongs to mankind, and the reversionary right of posterity to it is indefeasible and inalienable, and no individual or generation has or can acquire any other than a use-fructuary property in it. He who creates "an old field," therefore, and so makes a desolation even worse than war can effect, perpetrates a robbery upon mankind, commits a grand larceny against his own children, "an iniquity to be punished by the Judges."

Now there are many who will consider the above a specimen of unusually vigorous and elegant writing. For my part, though I am not guilty of "an old field" myself, yet I feel for my neighbors. Here is one of them who has already 1,350 acres under fence, and yet all this spring has been busy with a "new ground." Shearing the forest from a certain noble squirrel and possum and woodpecker and wild phlox range near by. Hill and valley and bubbling spring all now lying bare and defenceless this May morning. I cannot ask him since Prof. Kerr's Report has come out, how much "old field" he has already on hand. I am afraid of hurting his feeling.

Pictorially, and æsthetically, and abstractly, and from long use, I am attached to the "old field." Whether clothed with its native broom-straw waving golden-brown or yellow in sunlight or in cloud—what tune I think of the Scottish Moors, and deem their purple heather no whit more beautiful—or whether washed into glorious great gullies, red gashes in their sides, or whether crowned with familiar clumps of persimmon, and sassafras, and granite boulder, and grape vine, fit haunt for the rabbit and the black-snake,—in any view the "old field" is dear to my heart. North Carolina would not be what she is without it. Prof. Kerr cannot take that idea from me.

BY-LAWS.

SEC. 10. The plan of drawing shall be as follows: there shall be two wheels, one a prize wheel and one a number wheel, arranged in some public place in the city, where any one holding a ticket may be present on the day of drawing.—In the number wheel there shall be as many tickets corresponding in number as those which have been sold. In the prize wheel there shall be as many tickets as there are prizes, those tickets shall be deposited in the wheels by a board of supervisors, who shall be appointed by the Directors, after which the wheel shall be sealed up and placed in any bank in the city, the Director's may direct, until the time of drawing, when the supervisors shall bring the wheels to the drawing, break the seals and the drawing shall be disposed of by taking a ticket from each wheel, at the same time and the prize ticket taken from the prize wheel shall designate the prize drawn by the ticket corresponding in number to the one taken from the number wheel at the same time. The wheel shall be well shaken after each ticket is drawn.

SEC. 11. The Directors shall designate the time and place of drawing, at which time and place the supervisors shall be required to be present and see that the drawing is conducted strictly equitable.

A Board of Supervisors, will be appointed who will have exclusive control and management of the drawing. They will conduct the distribution and see that each person is legally invested with the property he may draw. A duplicate registry of the tickets sold will be kept; so that, in the event of loss of tickets, the accident may be remedied and no mistake can occur.

The Drawing will take place in TUCKER HALL, in the City of Raleigh, immediately after sale of tickets,—of which due notice will be given.

The Company is working under the provisions of a special Charter granted by the General Assembly of North Carolina, which compels the Company to comply faithfully with all contracts.

Copies can be had on application to the Company.

All the above mentioned property will certainly be disposed of as above stated, and those drawing it will be invested with the title in fee simple.

☞ No member of the Company is allowed to purchase any tickets.

All moneys sent by mail at the owner's risk; the sent by Express, Registered Letters, Checks or Drafts, at the risk of the Company.

No property will be listed unless the title is indisputable.

The Treasurer has been required to give a bond of five thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. He is required to deposit, daily, in the bank, all monies received, where it will remain until all the tickets are sold and all the property will be positively drawn and delivered to the parties drawing, or the money returned. Send two dollars by express, postoffice order, registered letter, or draft, at our risk, or by mail at your own, and take a chance at the 3,000 valuable prizes offered.

Tickets will be sent any where in the United States at the Company's risk.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.—This body closed its labors on Saturday afternoon last, having been in session since Wednesday the 19th inst.

The attendance, we believe, was larger than it has been on similar occasions for some years past, and the proceedings of an unusally important character.

The Convention will hold its next annual session at Edenton, on the first Thursday of May next.

OUR CITY.—It should be a source of pride and gratification to every citizen of this community to mark the present prosperous condition of our beautiful city. Almost in every quarter signs of improvement and enterprise are daily exhibiting themselves, and we feel sure that in a few years, if the present spirit of energy and go-aheaditiveness, which seems to be animating our citizens generally, is persevered in, that Raleigh will be, in every way, worthy of her position as the metropolis of North Carolina, and of the proud name which she bears.—It is our purpose when we have more time at command, to give an extended account of all the improvements made since antibellum days, and a discription also of the plans of those in the prospective.

THE EPISCOPAL CONVENTION,—DIVINE SERVICE.—The services in Christ Church, (Episcopal,) on yesterday, were of a highly interesting and impressive character, and were attended by one of the largest and most attentive congregations ever assembled in any House of Worship in this City.

In the morning, besides the ordinary services, which were read by the Rev. Murphy, and an able and eloquent discourse from the Rev. Mr. Patterson on the Ministry of the Church, ("For we are ambassadors of God, and do beseech you, in Christ's stead, that ye be reconciled to God,") the Holy Rite of Confirmation was administered, and Rev. Messrs. Ebons, Gordon and ——, Deacons, were ordained to the Priesthood. Nine Clergyman, robed in their appropriate vestments, united with the Bishop in the imposition of hands in the latter ceremony.

In afternoon, at St. Mray's Chapel, (Rev. Dr. Smedes, Rector,) after an impressive discourse from Rev. Mr. Patterson, ("The fashion of this world passeth away,") the Bishop administered Confirmation to eleven young ladies conected with the School. At the conclusion of the ceremony, the Bishop addressed the Class in a feeling manner. The music on this occasion was very fine, and all the services were beautiful and touching.

At night there was an appropriate Missionary Sermon by the Rev. Mr. Murphy, and Missionary addresses by the Bishop, Rev. Mr. Forbes and Gen. J. G. Martin. A collection, resulting in handsome receipts, was taken up in furtherance of Diocesan Missions.

Upon both occasions, the choir rendered excellent music.

TURTLE SOUP will be served at Pepper's, to-morrow at 11 o'clock.

THE handsome piano which Major Blair was so fortunate to win at the drawing, on Saturday last, has been pronounced, we are told, by those competent to judge, to be an instrument of excellent tune, and inferior to none in the city. The Major has removed it from the store of the Messrs. Hester to his hotel, where his guest will be regaled by its dulcet strains.

We give the following analysis, showing the difference between sugar produced from sorghum and New Orlean's sugars, by J. Lawrence Smith, formerly Professor of Chemistry at the University of Virginia:

"I have examined the specimen of sugar placed in my hands said to have been produced from the sorghum. It is an exceedingly light colored brown sugar, and would be valued as a dry sugar of that class. The chystals are good and of a handsome appearance having a slight agreeable odor, being dryer than most West India and New Orleans sugars. It is more open and more bulky, weight for weight; on the whole it would be valued as an excellent sugar, and certainly surprised me very much in appearance, although I was familiar with the experiments made on sorghum juice.

I submitted this sugar without drying to a careful examination by polarized light, (this being the most approved method of examination) to ascertain the amount of crystalizable sugar or true cane sugar present in the specimen. Contrasting it with several specimens of New Orleans sugar coming from the hogshead, it gave as follows:

CRYSTALIZABLE OR CANE SUGAR.

From Sorghum Sugar		89	per ct.
" N. O., specimen No. 1, very white		90	per ct.
" " " 2		82	"
" " " 3		80	"
" " " 4		72	"

In this comparison we speak of cane or crystalizable sugar for the amount present in any sugar as the true type of its sachamine strength. It is not out of place to remark that the tastes of a great number of people are in the habit of ranking the brown sugars as sweeter than the white sugars, yet it is far from the case; this singular contradiction arising from the pleasant taste afforded by the small amount of Molasses remaining in the sugars developing the pure sweetness of pure sugar.

I believe all the analysises and queries propounded to me have been answered, in the communication as agricultural and commercial questions are responded to in another report.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES.

On Friday last Col. Hardin Rucker, of Lynchburg, Va., sold a lot of yellow leaf tobacco at $500 per hundred pounds.—Biggest price of the season.

It is reported that the estate formerly owned by the Hon. Jefferson Davis, thirty miles below Vicksburg, Miss., is leased by an old negro at $10,000 a year.

The Episcopal Council, for the Diocese of Virginia, will meet at Fredericksburg on Wednesday, the 26th inst.

The Commencement exercises of Emory and Henry College, will take place on the 8th and 9th of June. The Hon. W. R Staples will address the two Literary societies.

The examination of Thomas Dobbins, of Richmond, Va., charged with having defrauded the government out of revenue tobacco, was concluded on Friday last before United States Commissioner, Chahoon. He was sent to the United States Court for indictment.

WEST FLORIDA ANNEXATION TO ALABAMA.—It is stated that the commissioners appointed by the Legislatures of the States of Florida and Alabama to treat concerning the annexation of West Flordia to Alabama, have agreed upon terms. The contract will be submitted to the two Legislatures for ratification, and then to Congress for approval or rejection.

PROFESSOR GOLDWIN SMITH, on the 19th instant, delivered a reply to Senator Sumner's speech on the Alabama Claims question, before the Cornell University, at Ithaca, N. Y.

ANNUAL ADDRESS.—Ex Governor E. Louis Lowe will deliver the annual address before the Washington and Jefferson Societies of the University of Virginia, at Charlottesville, at the commencement of that institution on the 30th, of June next.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Dr. B. Mills, formerly a member of the Maryland State Senate from Carroll county, died suddenly on Wednesday, in Westminster.

The Baptist General Association of Kentucky commenced its session at Louisville Thursday, with an unusally large attendance.

CELESTIAL.—All the New York papers mention the appearance of a meteor of extraordinary brilliancy in the northern heavens on Thursday night, shortly after 11 o'clock. It was visible for five or six seconds, and then exploded in a blaze of bright light, which rendered objects clearly visible. The same visitant was noticed in Boston, we are informed by telegraph, where it appeared as a light scarlet flash across the sky.

John Jeter Phillips, who was to have been hanged for wife-murder at Richmond, on Saturday, has been again respited by Governor Wells until July 6th.

A call has been issued in Maryland for a State Convention of colored men to assemble in Baltimore on the first of June. The object is for organization for political purposes, and to bring all possible aid to bear on the ratification of the fifteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution.

WHIM WHAMS.

BIG JOHN ON LONG SERMONS.—Down in Rome, Ga., lives "Big John" Underwood, who figured so largely in some of the lamented Bill Arp's letters, and who, according to the Commercial, don't go to church as often as he does to the hotel where Captain Stansberry issues rations to him three times a day. Some time ago he ventured out to hear an eminent divine. The sermon was learned and beautiful—the speaker earnest and eloquent, and for two hours he riveted the attention of the vast audience.—After that time a little restiveness was manifested by some, but our friend patiently attended him to the conclusion. A gentleman, anxious to get Big John's opinion, met him next day and asked—"John, how did you like the sermon last night, I"—John replied—"Well, I liked it mighty well in the fore part of the night, but I began to get a little tired awhile before day."—Ex.

The New York Ku Klux newspaper declares it mission to be "to turn everything inside out, upside down, wrong side before."

A countryman, who had never paid more than twenty five cents to see an exhibition went to view the 'Forty Thieves.' The ticket-seller charged him seventy-five cents for a ticket. Passing the pasteboard back, he quietly remarked: "Keep it, Mister; I don't want to see the other thirty nine," and out he marched.

TOO GOOD TO BE LOST.—We heard of a conversation which took place a few evenings since, between one of Elmira's fair daughters and a young merchant of this place, which runs as follows:

The merchant was speaking of the excellent qualities of a young female friend of his, and closed his remarks by observing that "she was a noble, generous hearted lady and one that was right here," accompanying the last words with a gesture which bordered near the heart.

Her reply was, "fungs!" "that is half cotton!"

A batchelor ass captain was complaining that he couldn't get a satisfactory chief officer, when a young lady remarked that she should like a situation as first mate.—The captain took the hint and the girl.

A lady lately cleared her house of flies by putting honey on her husband's whiskers when he was asleep. The flies stuck fast, and when he went out of the house he carried them out with him.

"My opponent, Mr. Speaker, persists in saying that he is entitled to the floor.—Whether this is so or not, I shall not enquire. All I have got to say is, that he will get floored if he interrupts me again."

"My son," said a man of doubtful morals, putting his hand on the head of a young urchin, 'I believe Satan has got hold of you" "I believe so too," replied the urchin.

"Ah!" said a conceited young parson.—"I have this afternoon been preaching to a congregation of asses." "Then that was the reason why you always called them beloved brethren," replied a strong minded lady.

A correspondent says there are no daily papers published in his town, but there is a ladies' sewing meeting, which answers the very same purpose.

It was resolved at a Wisconsin temperance meeting that total abstinence is indispensable to raise a man to the level with other animals.

CATERPILLAR IN GEORGIA.—The Albany News, of the 14th, says: "We are assured by planters who know more from experience than all the theorists in the world about the caterpillar, that it has made its appearance in this section, and that from their knowledge of its origin, progress and ravages, the most serious apprehensions may be felt for the safety of the present crop."

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CONVENTION.

[Reported expressly for the Sentinel.]

AFTERNOON SESSION.

SATURDAY, May 22, 1869.

It should have been noticed in the report this morning, that Rev. Mr. Forbes, from the Committee on the state of the Church, made quite an elaborate report.—In the course of which the committee spoke in terms of high approval of that portion of the Bishop's address relative to Ritualism, and commended its suggestions to the action of the Diocese, &c. The report was concurred in unanimously.

Rev. Mr. Curtis moved that, in case that it be out of the power of any of the Trustees of the University of the South to attend the next meeting, that alternates should be appointed to supply their places by the Bishop. Carried.

The following gentlemen were reported as having been elected standing Committee:

Rev. D. Mason, Rev. Dr. Curtis, Rev. Dr. Smedes, Hon. W. H. Battle, and G. W. Mordecai.

Mr. K. P. Battle declined a re election.

Rev. Mr. Huske made a report from the Committee on Missionary Affairs, with a resolution calling the attention of Rectors to the monthly collections, to be forwarded quarterly for Missionary purposes.

Mr. DeRossett offered a resolution of thanks, to Messrs. J. B. Neathery & Co., for their offer to publish in pamphlet form without charge, the Journal of the Convention, under the supervision of the Secretary. Carried.

On motion of Mr. R. H. Smith the Convention went into an election of Treasurer. Whereupon Mr. Wilkes was unanimously re-elected.

On motion the Convention proceeded to elect deputies to the General Convention. Whereupon the following gentlemen were elected:

Clergy—Rev. R. S. Mason, D. D., Rev. A. A. Watson, Rev. A. Cheshire, D. D., Rev. E. M. Forbes.

Laity—Hon. W. H Battle, Mr. R. H. Smith, Mr. A. J. DeRossett, Mr. Robt. Strange.

On motion of Hon. W. H. Battle, the Committee appointed by last Convention relative to the Episcopal Fund was continued until next meeting.

On motion of Mr. R. H. Smith the Secretary was directed to read over the proceedings of the day and the Convention adjourned sine die.

WEALTHIEST DISTRICT IN THE UNION.

The New York city papers publish the income returns of the eighth collection district of that city, show a marked increase in the incomes of real estate owners, with some falling off in those of merchants for the past year. The district is the most wealthy in the country. The list comprises only those whose incomes are above ten thousand dollars, being eight hundred and fifty-seven in number, their aggregate annual incomes amounting to $24,540,000.—Forty-two of these have each above $100,000 per annum—the forty-two aggregating $7,344,000, or an average of $172,000 each per annum. Mr. A. T. Stewart, (the great dry goods man,) alone has the enormous annual income of $3,016,000 or nearly half as much as the forty-two richest men all put together. The remaining eight hundred and fourteen persons, each of whom has less than $100,000 per annum, have in the aggregate $14,380,000, or an average of upwards of $17,500 each. It is thus shown that of the $24,540,000, forty-two persons have among them between one-third and one fourth of the whole, and that Mr. A. T. Stewart has one eighth of the whole.—Aaron Arnold returns $230,609; J. H. Benedict $311,599; Harvey Fisk $386,120; George Fox $371,411; Peter Goelet $283,688; A. S. Hatch $274,261; Elias S. Higgins $481,338; Paran Stevens $244,335; Moses Taylor $279,433; Frances Warden $263,587. The list fills three columns.—There are plenty of small fry fellows who return from $40,000 to $50,000. A contemporary thinks this is little enough at the present price of butter. But what a contrast do those few aggregations of wealth present with the mass of abject poverty in the same great city, "where wealth accumulates and men decay."—Balt. Sun.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Revenue to-day, $634,000.

The negro Douglass who applied to Wolf for a place is a brother of Clapp's. Douglass is now working in the Government printing office, on a card from the secretary of the Washington Typographical Union.

Capt. Geo. Brown having safely delivered the Confederate ram "Stonewall" to the Japanese Government, has arrived here. He reports the health of the Asiatic squadron good.

It is estimated the forthcoming debt statement shows a decrease of seven millions, with receipts from revenue eighteen millions and customs fifteen millions.

Ex Senator Jesse D. Bright is here.

It is stated that Sulnave has purchased the federal steam ram "Atlanta."

An abstract of all national banks 1,600, shows aggregate resources and liabilities, $1,516,300,000, including loans and discounts, $639,000,000; Specie nearly $85,000,000; Legal tender over $80,000,000; three per cent certificates, $51,000,000; Capital stock over $420,000,000.

Mrs. Harriet Balch Macom, wife of the Commander-in-Chief, before Gen. Scott, is dead.—Aged, 86 years.

Commodore Chas. Stewart McCauley is dead. Aged 78 years.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK May 22.—In the Old School Presbyterian Assembly a motion was made fixing Thursday for discussing re-union. Gentlemen from the Potomac Synod said they were not yet ready to consider the subject. Rev. Mr. Johnson spoke in favor of the resolution. Mr. Taylor, of Georgetown, opposed it. The motion to take the whole subject was rejected, and the matter was referred to a special Committee of three ministers and three elders to be appointed by the Moderator.—Other business was confined to the usual routine.

FROM GEORGIA.

AUGUSTA, May 22.—Edward Beecher, colored, Assessor of the third district, published a card in the morning "Chronicle & Sentinel" in reference to his letter published in the Washington "Chronicle" and New York "Tribune," detailing the murder of Stone, one of the expelled members of the Legislature and the negro man who was with Adkins when he was killed. Beecher says that he was misinformed, and, he believes, wilfully imposed upon by certain persons here, as he now learns, upon good authority that Stone and the other persons mentioned are living.—Beecher states that the letter was private to Charles Sumner, and regrets its publication.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, May 24.—The Times, discussing the Alabama claims, says England has equal cause of complaint against America. Great Britain resisted the temptation to recognize the south, thereby inflicting sufferings on her own people, disobliging an ally, and in fact declared in favor of the North, and is now misunderstood and accused of hostility and selfishness. Sir Francis Head communicates several official documents to prove Southerners received by Americs in the Canadian revolt in 1837. He asserts that Sumner's speech applied equally to that and the Alabama claims but that England never claimed nor received indemnity.

MARKETS.

NEW YORK, May 22.—Cotton quiet, sales 1,55 bales at 28½. Flour dull. Wheat one and two cents lower. Corn unchanged. Whisky firmer at $1.08@$1.09. Pork heavy, at $31,12½@31.25—Lard lower; kettle 19@19½. Spirits Turpentine firmer at 48@47. Groceries steady. Freights firmer.

Wall Street was quiet this afternoon. Money easy at 6. The bank statement was favorable.—Bonds dull at 3½. Gold steady at 41½.

BALTIMORE, May 22.—Cotton scarce at 28.—Flour steady. Wheat weak; prime Pennsylvania red $1.50@$1.55; valley red $2.00@2.10. Corn firm; white 84; yellow 87@88. Whisky scarce at $1,06. Provisions firm.

AFTERNOON DISPATCHES.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 24, M.—The War Department is occupied to-day with details of Indian affairs.

General Thomas departs overland for California to-day.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, May 24, M.—Fifty-six army officers are ordered to report to Gen. Canby to be assigned as registrars at the revision of registration, which is ordered for June 14th, to continue 10 days.

The regulations, issued by the Commanding General, for the election, are the same as heretofore, except that not more than four hundred shall vote at any one poll. No provision is made, as heretofore, for whites and blacks voting at separate polls.

FOREIGN.

WASHINGTON, May 24, M.—The New York Herald's special from Paris, says Washburn, addressing the Emperor, said he had been authorized to express the heart wishes of the President of the United States for the happiness and health of his Majesty and for the prosperity of France, and an earnest desire of the Government and people of the U. S. to maintain and cultivate always le relations with France, and to uphold and perpetuate the traditional friendship of the two countries. He trusted, while guarding the interests confided to him, his residence near the Court of his Majesty would contribute to the continuance of existing friendly relations.

The Emperor replied, he was glad to welcome Washburn as the representative of the United States, and was pleased to receive assurances of that government with whom close sympathy and amicable feelings had existed uninterruptedly for a hundred years. He heartily concurred in the hope expressed of a continuance of those relations, and was happy to welcome as Minister near his Court a gentleman so distinguished in the history of his country.

The elections are progressing orderly. Government candidates at present moment ahead.

Hagan's Magnolia Balm.—This article is the True Secret of Beauty. It is what Fashionable Ladies, Actresses and Opera Singers use to produce that cultivated dishegue appearance so much admired in the Circles of Fashion.

It removes all unsightly Blotches, Redness, Tan, Sunburn and Effects of Spring Winds, and gives to the Complexion a Blooming Purity of transparent delicacy and power. No Lady who values a fine Complexion can do without the Magnolia Balm. 75 cents will buy it of any of our respectable dealers.

ÆTNA

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

JANUARY 1ST., 1869.

Assets $10,462,531,75.

Amount of Income 6,227,071.

SURPLUS OVER LIABILITIES 2,675,999,18.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.

Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!

The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.

Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

LIFE INSURANCE.

NATIONAL

OF THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,

$1,000,000,

PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so fuddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he looks into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

NATIONAL

$1,000,000

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,583 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,005,550.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.68

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 802

By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey,	693
" New England Mutual,	343
" Phœnix Mutual,	335
" Massachusetts Mutual,	312
" Equitable of New York,	277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.

In its 10th year,	1,260 "
And in its 20th year,	2,843 "

this latter being 600 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

FIRST CLASS NEWSPAPER.

Feb 11-tf J. A. JONES, Raleigh, N. C

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the public against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's Snuff is "far ahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process known only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify if Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended, it can be used on any stove or Range, in any boiler, and the Low Price of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is rarely to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the state.
